

JOHN DIETZ GUILTY; WAS GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE AT HARD LABOR AFTER A SENSATIONAL TRIAL

"DEFENDER OF CAMERON DAM" FOUND BY JURY TO HAVE KILLED OFF HARP.

OTHERS ARE CLEARED

Noted "Outlaw" Smiled When Judge
Reid Sentenced Him—One Day
Each Year to Be in Close Confinement.

Hayward, Wis., May 13.—John F.
Dietz is guilty of the murder of Harp,
my Sheriff here on October 8th, last.
This was the verdict of the jury
after mature deliberation all night arrest last October.

and immediately Judge Reid sentenced the prisoner to Waupun for life.

Mrs. Dietz and Leslie Dietz, who were jointly charged with the murder, were found not guilty and will be released.

This was the ending of one of the most sensational trials that is to be found in the annals of Wisconsin courts and ends a feud that has existed at Cameron Dam for a decade.

When the verdict of the jury was made and John Dietz was told to stand up to receive his sentence, the aged woodsman smiled and listened to the life sentence as calmly as he had to the evidence presented during the trial.

Scarcely had Judge Reid finished his address than the old man, who has been his own lawyer and conducted his own defense throughout the long hearings, immediately made a motion for a new trial.

Judge Reid refused to grant this and allowed Dietz ten days to prepare another motion, saying sentence nisi until such a time.

Meanwhile Mrs. Dietz sat glaring at the jury who moved nervously in the jury box, while her son and daughter showed signs of breaking down under the strain which has ended in their release.

One day of each year, October 8th, the date on which John Dietz is charged with having shot and killed
Harp, the prisoner must spend in solitary confinement.

The conviction of Dietz ends one of the most sensational cases in the Wisconsin courts. Starting years ago with a fight between the lumber interests and the homesteaders who took up property at Cameron Dam and held millions of feet of lumber until a toll was paid, Dietz's career has been one of excitement that almost rivals
a dime novel.

Scores of United States deputies have wandered through the woods in an effort to serve legal papers on the "dam defender," only to be driven back by high power rifles before they could reach the cabin fortress of the Dietzes.

Then came a cessation of trouble and it was not until last primary day at Winter, the little postoffice near Cameron Dam, that the Dietzes again broke forth in all their fury and the elder Dietz shot down one of the former's best friends over a trivial matter.

Fleeing to his forest stronghold,
Dietz defied the officers of the law and prepared to defend himself to the last. Armed with the best of rifles and plenty of ammunition, the man prepared to fight off all comers.

Sending his son Clarence and daughter Myra to Winter for news and provisions, they were fired upon by deputy sheriffs and both captured, severely wounded.

Public sentiment was aroused and the little town of Winter became a storm center and headquarters for a warlike party that was gathered to attack the cabin.

The son and daughter were taken to hospital and cared for and Sheriff Madden prepared for an assault upon the cabin. Meanwhile the state authorities had been prevailed upon to offer terms to the besieged.

A conference was held and the terms rejected. In Minneapolis and Milwaukee bands of armed men who had planned to hunt to Dietz's aid were organized and ready to start for Winter at a moment's notice.

Then came the final demand for surrender from the sheriff, followed by the attack of October 8th, last, when Deputy Sheriff Harp was shot and killed.

The Dietz cabin was riddled with bullets, but the old man, his son and wife and younger children still held out until convinced it meant death to his family to fight longer, and the head of the family surrendered.

Then came the wave of sympathy throughout the country. Funds were raised for their defense. Myra and Clarence lectured and outshined opened headquarters and started subscription papers.

One by one Dietz quailed with his lawyers and they deserted him and left him to fight his battle alone. Stubborn and defiant to the last, Dietz has cross-examined the witnesses who swore to the shots fired, to his general character and has argued and objected in true legal manner throughout the long trial.

The end came today when he was found guilty. The story is finished and one of the most sensational episodes in Wisconsin history is closed, unless a new trial is ordered after a rehearing of the evidence by the supreme court.

Dietz asked for a new trial on the grounds that much of the material evidence had been ruled out and also on the ground of errors of law.

In answer Judge Reid said: "Because you have no attorney I really don't know what to do with you. I think, however, in view of the motion the supreme court should pass first upon the evidence and I shall deny the motion and allow you ten days to prepare your motion."

After Dietz's motion had been made and denied Judge Reid asked him if he had anything to say as to why sentence should not be pronounced.
Dietz at once launched into a tirade against the lumber trust, at times raising his voice in uncontrollable madness.

Declaring it had been the policy of the lumber trust to rule or ruin, he talked for minutes until stopped by the judge and the sentence was passed.

Following the reading of the verdict
Judge Reid informed Mrs. Dietz and Leslie that they were discharged from all charges pending in the complaint.

The court then asked John Dietz
if he had anything to say.
"Do you suppose," Dietz said, "I haven't known that sooner or later the trust, because I am big and I'm little, would kill me or put me out of the way?"

"I fought my fight and defended my home and family. I done nothing wrong and this conviction does not alter the fact."

"The trust has one creed, one law,
and one purpose, that is to rule or ruin."

"They could not rule John Dietz, so they tried for six years to ruin him.
This morning it looks as if they have got what they were after."

John Dietz will be taken to Waupun probably tonight or Monday morning.
John Dietz's statement to the reporters as he left the courtroom was:
"Shake hands all around boys. I don't feel bad. I knew it was coming.
I was convicted before a witness took the stand. There wasn't a man in Sawyer county who was not out to get me. I am lucky they were not judicial enough to send my wife and boy along with me." Mrs. Dietz said
weepingly:

"I know they would do it. They would have done it if the witness had testified that John was away from the burn when Harp was killed. My God,
I don't know what will become of us."

Myra, the most outwardly agitated of all, fairly shrieked as she rushed into the press room for news of her family: "The trust! How could they do it to go so far!"

Receiving his sentence, Dietz's teeth closed like a vice and with a sinister grin creeping over his face he said:
"If the lumber trust needs a victim, it got me. I am lucky they were not judicial enough to send my wife and
boy along with me." Mrs. Dietz said
weepingly:

"I know they would do it. They would have done it if the witness had

burn when Harp was killed. My God,

MILTON PROFESSOR SPOKE IN NEW YORK

Alfred Sun Speaks Highly of Dr. A. R.
Crandall Who Addressed Assembly There Recently.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milton, May 13.—Professor A. R.
Crandall, Ph. D., of the Milton College Natural Science Department, addressed an assembly which filled the Kenyon Memorial Hall of Alfred University at New York City on the evening of April 29th. The Alfred Sun in reporting the lecture speaks very highly of Dr. Crandall, who was formerly a professor in Alfred University.

The lecture which was delivered on the subject of "A Religion of Law." In reporting the address the paper says:
"Throughout his talk Prof. Crandall showed a wide knowledge, literary, and philosophical knowledge, a versatility of expression and exact way of expressing himself. He made statements which were almost epigrammatic, and he showed a careful selection of material with a definite end in view,
a cultured exposition of great principle in knowledge easily comprehensible to the layman, a deep underlying moral and religious tone and conviction which won him a high place in the estimation of his hearers. All in all, his lecture was a scientific masterpiece, setting forth a broad view of deep philosophical and religious problems."

NOTHING IMPORTANT BEFORE LEGISLATURE

But Four Senators Present—Various Matters Considered.

Madison, Wis., May 13.—The senate with but four senators present, today held a short session and adjourned until Monday night. Several bills were introduced by the speaker, committee on water power and forestry.
One bill would appropriate annually $250,000 for ten years to be used for the purchase of additional land and the development of the state forest reserve in Northern Wisconsin. Another bill increased the salary of the forest commissioner from $5,000 to $5,500.

Assembly Speaker today put a question on the bill providing to make it a criminal offense for the publication of secret work of fraternal orders, when the bill came up in the assembly. He declared such a law would afford protection to "black hand" and criminal organizations, as well as the legiti-mate. The measure was killed
"quick."

A bill introduced in the Assembly would create a state industrial commission of three men to take over all work done by the state labor commissioner, board of arbitration and a state accident board. The measure, which is in line with one of the proposals of the governor's message, will come up for consideration next week.

CROWDS FLOCKING TO ENGLAND FOR THE CORONATION

Visitors from Abroad and from the Country Beginning to Throng Metropolis in Anticipation of Great Event.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
London, May 13.—The stage has been set and everything put in readiness for the coronation to rise on the first of the magnificent spectacles that are to make the coming summer the most memorable in the modern history of London. Tuesday next will witness the unveiling of the Victoria Memorial, the imposing exercises forming a fitting prelude to the grand ceremonies of the coronation to follow a few weeks later.

The arrangements for the unveiling of the memorial have been completed under the general supervision of Colonel Sir Frederick Ponsonby, the King's Emery. The War Office is in charge of the arrangements for the great military parade that will be a leading feature of the program and the Archbishop of Canterbury has prepared the religious service.

In anticipation of the coronation London is already becoming filled with visitors from abroad and from the country. The metropolitan area, in fact, is already receiving warnings of what the crowds may be expected to be at the coronation next month. Piccadilly, St. Paul's, Charing Cross, Whitehall, the Strand, the City, and the neighborhood of Westminster Abbey are now thronged from early morning until midnight. Visits to the Carlton, the Cecil, the Savoy, and other leading hotels today showed the same conditions everywhere—practically all accommodations engaged and the dining rooms and restaurants filled to overflowing. Visiting Americans were largely in evidence.

The unveiling of the Queen Victoria
Memorial will naturally serve to materially increase the number of early arrivals for the coronation. It is estimated that probably 1,000,000 visitors will be in London by Tuesday. Londoners expect to make a great deal of money out of these visitors and the hundreds of thousands of others who will be here during the summer. The Americans are especially expected to furnish wealth for the Londoners, for while the bulk of the visitors will be from the English provinces, by far the greatest number of foreigners will be from the United States. Canadians also will be much in evidence.

The Home Office is preparing to take every precaution for the protection and safety of the visitors. In the centered districts of the metropolis the force of police will be practically doubled after the coronation festivities have ended. Detachments from many of the continental countries have been notified for the season to look after the undesirable element that is already swirling into the city from abroad. Scotland Yard will have its hands full looking after the safety of the many royal visitors. During the months of June, crown princes and princesses, grand dukes and even kings and queens will be almost as thick as bees in London. A number of the most distinguished representatives of the royalty of Europe will also be here to add their tribute to the unveiling of the monument in the Hall on Tuesday.

The most memorable of the visitors
most week will be the Emperor Wilhelm and the German Empress. Their Imperial Highnesses, accompanied by Princess Victoria Louise, will arrive at Port Victoria on board the Imperial yacht Hohenzollern early Monday morning and will reach Victoria Station by royal train at midday. They will be the private guests of King George and Queen Mary at Buckingham Palace, and as the visit is a purely family one the emperor will not be accompanied by any minister of state.

In addition to the opening of the Queen Victoria Memorial on Tuesday and the special performance of "Mousetrap" at Drury Lane on the following day, the Emperor and Empress will attend a court ball next Friday night. They will leave England in the Hohenzollern on their return journey
Saturday.

SIX CENTS AWARDED IN SLANDER CASE

Fond du Lac Man Who Brought Suit

lated that both parties must pay their own costs. Eldman alleged that Sargeant had said Eldman had been receiving things long enough under false pretenses. The suit was started on this pretext.

HUNGRY AND RAGGED SOLDIERS OF REBEL ARMY IN UPRISING AT JUAREZ TODAY

LED BY GEN. OROZCO, SOLDIERS
DEMAND FOOD AND MONEY FROM FRANCISCO MADERO.

MADERO ARRESTED

Insurrecto Leader Seized and Placed Under Arrest. But Later Made
Terms and Was Released.—
Navarro Conveyed To Safety.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Juarez, May 13.—An insurrecto rebellion within the ranks of the Madero army this morning resulted in the declaring under arrest of Francisco I.
Madero, Jr., the provisional President, the demand and acceptance of the demand that Madero's cabinet resign, and for two hours threatened the destruction of the Juarez army as a concrete lightning force.

The rebellion arose in the forces under General Orozco and was headed by Orozco himself. The demand was made upon Madero for food and money for his ragged, hungry soldiers.
Madero was unable to satisfy the demands at the time, but his explanations were thrown aside by Orozco and his soldiers and Madero was declared under arrest. Finally the matter was settled by Madero promising that the immediate needs of the soldiers would be attended to and the insurrectos dispersed.

Another Report.
El Paso, Texas, May 13.—A serious riot is threatened between the insur-recto military leaders at Juarez over General Navarro, the captured federal general. It is reported General Orozco has threatened to seize Navarro and kill him because of his inhuman treatment to wounded insurrectos, while General Madero declares he will protect Navarro with his life.

Captured Town Today.
Douglas, Ariz., May 13.—Cananea, the most important point in Northern Arizona, was captured by the Mexican insurrectos today without firing a shot.
Insurrecto scouts went into the city during the night and overpowered the leaders of the federal garrison without once using their rifles. The insur-recto fighters were immediately hoisted over all public buildings. Col.
Cabrera, who took the city, has upwards of 2,000 troops.

Navarro Safe.
General Navarro, leader of the disaffected federals, against whose life threats were made by the insurrectos, was personally escorted to the river at noon today by Provisional President Madero and forced the river to the American side as a hostage.

Peace Expected.
Juarez, May 13.—"I have the greatest hopes for succeeding this time," said Dr. Ortiz, one of the go-between for peace in Mexico today, after a conference about peace with Francisco Madero, Jr. "I can state that negotiations have been officially resumed," he continued.

TOBACCO BUSINESS
DULL IN EDGERTON

Only A Few Warehouses Have Work With 1910 Crop Packing.—Early Transplanting Predicted.

There is but little news to be gleaned from the Edgerton tobacco market these days. According to the Edgerton Tobacco Reporter of May 12, a few warehouses have some work yet to complete the season's packing, but the business is gradually coming to an end.

Trading in old leaf is confined to minor transactions. The American Cigar Co. have been buying the short ends of several local packings of the '00 remaining in the state, and Janeville packers report the sale of a few round lots, but business is largely of a hand-to-mouth order from manufacturers.

The shipments out of storage reach 200 cases for the week, to all points for the week.

New Crop Prospects.

The warm growing weather the past week has been just the thing to give the plant buds a decided impetus, as it has all other vegetation. The young plants are making remarkable progress—quite a marked contrast with some other seasons when cold, rainy weather has retarded the early starting of the tiny plants. So far the conditions could hardly be improved on, and the prospects for the coming tobacco crop are about all that could be wished for at this date.

Care of Beds.

Growers, however, should see to it that the beds do not lack for moisture, and if rains are not frequent enough should supply the needed moisture by watering. A treatment of liquid fertilizer would also prove helpful if the plants are not making the desired progress. Though the indications are there will be no lack of plants at the usual transplanting season in this state, another much requisite is to keep abreast with the work of preparing the fields for the crop.

If They Had.

If men had for women would have a lot of fun rubbing it the wrong way.

TRINITY CHURCH TO RECEIVE A LEGACY

Local Church Named As One of Beneficiaries of $50,000 Estate of Late George W. Greeley of Roscoe, Illinois.

Trinity Episcopal church of this city is named as one of the beneficiaries in the will of George William Greeley, a resident of Roscoe, Ill., who recently died at Waukegan, Wis. The exact amount of the legacy is not known, but information of the filing of a petition in the Winnebago county, Ill., probate court naming the local church as among the beneficiaries was received last night by Archdeacon Henry Williamson, pastor of the church. The petition was drafted by Lyford, resident of this state, who nominated Robert of Rockford as the administrator of the property. The estate is valued at fifty thousand dollars and will net $25,000 in real estate and the rest in personal property. Two sisters, Emma G. Rice and Addie E. Phippen, a niece, Ruth Gifford Phippen, are also beneficiaries. Greeley was an old friend of Father William Gombel of this city.

Officers for next year will be elected at the November meeting.

OBITUARY.

Owen Dower.

Afton, May 13.—Owen Dower, aged sixty-six years and for forty years a resident of the town of Rock, died at his home here at 12:30 Friday morning. Mr. Dower had been in ill health for the past three months, but the radical change for the worse came suddenly and his death comes as a shock to his many friends. He was born in the state of Pennsylvania and came west while a young man.

He has been a resident of the town of Rock for the past forty years and has taken active interest in the affairs of the town and in his business. He was one of the charter members of the local camp of Modern Woodmen, the leaves of wife, and son, Clarence Dower, residing near Afton, and a daughter, Mrs. Charles Genser of the town of La Prairie.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at one o'clock from the home and at half past one from the Baptist church at Afton. Interment will be made in the cemetery at Beloit.

"A Square Deal For
The Horse," the Plea

With the coming of the hot summer months pleas are being sent all over the country by humane societies and publications issued in the interest and care of dumb animals, for kindness and consideration to the horse.

One of the most extensive campaigns in behalf of this "Friend of Man" has been instituted in the city of Cincinnati by a young woman, Miss M. Cora Dow, who, by her energy and determination, has accomplished remarkable results. She has conceived of the idea of a horse vacation and every year hundreds of the hard worked animals in Cincinnati are sent into the country for a two weeks' rest on green pastures.

Her campaign now extends far beyond the limits of one city and every year about May 1st circulars are sent to business men all over Ohio bearing the appeal for kindness to man's indispensable beast of burden. Ballrooms, insurance companies, express companies, and many of the leading business firms respond to this appeal and annually the horses are given a vacation and are treated to a year round with more consideration. The United States government has gone the other way one better and gives a thirty days' leave of absence to the horses in its service.

On one of the pages of the folder which Miss Dow sends out every year is what is called the horse's prayer and in a recent issue of the Congressional and Christian World it is given. It reads as follows:

The Horse's Prayer.

"To thee, my master, I offer my prayer: Food, water and care for me, and when the day's work is done, provide me with shelter and a clean, dry bed. Always be kind to me. Let me sometimes, that I may serve you the more gladly and loyally to love you. Do not jerk the reins, and do not whip me when going up hill. Never strike, beat or kick me when I do not understand what you want; but give me a chance to understand you. Watch me, and if I fall to do your bidding, see if something is not wrong with my harness or feet.

"Do not overload me, or hitch me where water will drip on me. Keep me well shod. Examine my teeth when I do not eat; I may have an ulcerated tooth, and that, you know, is very painful. Do not let me check my head in an unnatural position or take away my best defense against flies and mosquitoes by cutting off my mane or tail.

"I cannot tell you when I am thirsty, so give me clean, cool water often. I cannot tell you in words when I am sick; so watch me, and by signs you may know my condition. Give me all possible shelter from the hot sun; and put a blanket on me, not when I am working, but when I am standing in the cold. Never put a frosty bit in my mouth; first warm it by holding it a moment in your hands.

"I try to carry you and your burdens without a murmur, and wait patiently for you long hours of the day or night. Without the power to choose my shoes or path, I sometimes fall on the hard pavements, and I must be ready at any moment to lose my life in your service.

"And finally, O my master, when my useful strength is gone, do not turn me out to starve or freeze, or sell me to some human brute, to be slowly tortured and starved to death; but do thou, my master, take my life in the kindest way, and your God will reward you here and hereafter. Amen.

Send Guns South.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

June 13, May 13.—It is probable that tomorrow many insurance troops will be sent south toward Chihuahua. Chihuahua is reported to be defended by numerous field guns and revolutionists. It is certain that they will not attempt to attack the city before the arrival of artillery and ammunition, which has been ordered since Washington announced the free shipment of arms has been made possible.

To Banquet Woodrow Wilson.

San Francisco, Cal., May 13.—The Yale, Harvard and Princeton clubs of San Francisco have joined in making suitable arrangements for the entertainment of Governor Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, who is to pay his first visit to this city Monday. The coming of the New Jersey governor has aroused considerable interest in view of his reported candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. At the Fairmont hotel Monday night he will be the guest of honor at a banquet for which 2,000 invitations have been issued.

CHRSTIAN HANSEN
DIED THIS MORNING

Had Been a Resident of Rock County Since 1851, When He Came Here From Norway.

Christian Hansen, aged eighty-one years, passed away in his home, 307 Terrace street, shortly after three o'clock this morning. Death came after a prolonged illness of about five months.

Mr. Hansen was born in Norway and lived there until attaining young manhood when he came to America. He came to Rock county in 1851 and during the subsequent sixty years has made his home here.

The deceased is survived by three sons and two daughters. They are: Mrs. Mary Nelson and Mrs. Walter Stoddard, all of this city. His wife passed away forty-five years ago.

The funeral will be held from the home on Terrace street Monday afternoon at half past two.

BUY COAL

Now and Save Money

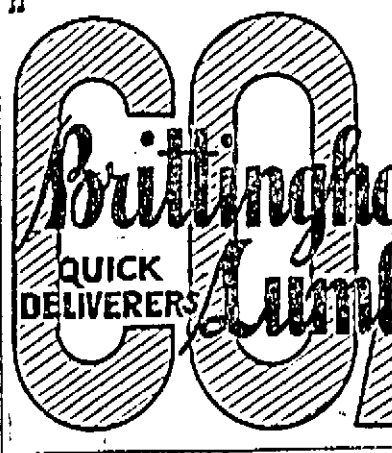

Coal costs 50c per ton less now than it will later on. If you buy ten tons you save $5.00. Of course, it ties up money for five months, but it saves enough to be mighty good interest on your money.

We Protect Our Customers on Price

Some people have an idea that the price of coal will drop before next fall. While we do not anticipate it, yet if the price should decline at any time during the summer, we will give you the reduced price on what you buy now. So you can't lose anything and you are sure to SAVE 50c a ton.

PURE SCRANTON COAL

If you buy your coal here you get PURE LIVE SCRANTON, the coal that is all bright, fresh, live coal. There is a difference in coal, buy your supply here and you will see it yourself. Everything that is black is not coal. It's harder for us to get PURE Scranton coal, but it's worth the difference in satisfaction to our patrons.

One-Piece Dresses Never
Were Priced so Moderately
As Now

This season seems to be a time of extraordinary low prices at this store. Our stock of one piece dresses both in wash materials and in white embroidered and lingerie is one of rare styles and wonderfully fine values.

The line of colored Wash Dresses for afternoon and street wear, all handsome one piece styles, beautifully trimmed are priced from $2.00 to $12.50

Included are fine mulls, percales, chambrays, ginghams, cotton foulards and linen.

The extraordinary showing of white lingerie dresses, include a line of sample garments that are being sold at a reduction of a third in price. The styles are all over embroidered, in plain and most elaborate styles, for party and afternoon wear, some of fine sheer fabrics with embroidery and lace insertion and medallions made in artistic designs, featuring all the newest concepts. Prices range from $5.00 to $18.50

New Wool Coats

Another shipment of the most popular wool serge tan coats, trimmed with novelty satin effects and gold buttons. These coats have been particularly hard to keep in stock as the demand for them has been very great.

25% Reduction on all Children's Jackets

All children's jackets in stock now offered at 25% off. They include all good colors in flannels, wools, poplins, serges, all nicely trimmed. Ages 3 to 14 yrs. At this reduction in price the bargains are indeed excellent, as our garments are marked at very close figures right from the start. We contend that at regular prices our values excel others because of our modern method of departmentizing, and because of the fact that we sell on smaller margins than elsewhere.

Big Auction Sale of Gotham Realty.
New York, May 13.—New York real estate speculators are on edge in anticipation of the sale at auction next Monday of the entire holdings of the famous Pinkney estate, which consists of a number of whole city blocks, about 100 corners, many block fronts, and some choice improved properties. It is doubtful if there will ever be another estate of its size broken up in New York City. The properties to be offered comprise a total of about 950 city lots, and represent only a part of the original estate acquired in the early part of the eighteenth century. Miss Mary G. Pinkney, the owner of the estate, maintained it personally up to the time of her death three years ago, when she died at the ripe old age of 98. At the time of her death she was reputed to be America's wealthiest spinster.

Strength

By Byron Williams

When all the weary child is done
And all the problems brushed away—
Her face glows with children fun,
She meets me at the close of day!
And as I sit up willing kids
I think, "How worth it all for this!"
When trouble comes and clings to me,
And only darkness looms ahead,
She gives my heart its ecstasy
As sunset paints the sky with red—
Ah! then I know the way is bright,
And worry flees from me by night!
For now could I lose who fought for her
Who fastens on my shield for me,
And though the world my rival were,
Her faith would win the victory!
Ah, father, when the clouds are by—
We stand triumphant, you and I!

Irish Art.
Every nation must have its own art, as distinct and separate from that of other countries as its language; and if ever Ireland is to find her soul and found her own school of art, it can only be done for her by her own artists. A teacher from England or abroad would be a most dangerous experiment.—J. H. Yeats, R. H. A., in The Shamrock.

F. & P. A., Rockford, Ill.

AN OLD REMEDY

Beef, Iron and Wine is one of the good old remedies that has outlived a score of patent tonics, reasonable in price, a satisfactory tonic, appetizer and mild stimulant. There is nothing better for that tired, worried, listless feeling or run-down condition of the system after illness of any kind. It tones the whole system, stimulates digestion, gives you appetite, is a good tonic for weak, pale children or old people, far more effective than small extracts or so-called wine of cod liver oil that depend upon their stimulants alone. Beef, Iron and Wine tones and sustains, it assists nature to recuperate, it's a food to the sick and nursing mothers.

Mr. Pfenig, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist, prepares our Beef, Iron and Wine. It's always fresh, made from the very best extract of beef, wholesome, properly aged sherry wine and soluble iron. We don't sell ready-made, hand-made, factory-manufactured Beef, Iron and Wine. We believe and know that medicine should be compounded only by the experienced and scientifically trained.

Try a bottle of our Beef, Iron and Wine as made by Mr. Pfenig, 75c a full pint. Note its delicious taste and invigorating effect. You will be more than satisfied. Get it at the leading Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts. The drug store that makes a specialty of drugs.

SHELF ARRANGEMENT OF THE BOOKS AT

The Public Library

The Janesville Public Library is classified according to the Dewey Dec and classification. The decimal form means simply that the books are grouped and numbered with the common arithmetical figures, used decimally. Most of the Public Libraries today are using this same arrangement. The books stand on the shelves, in numerical order and under each number alphabetically by author. The ten main classes of this classification are as follows:

- 000 General works (Encyclopedias and periodicals).
- 100 Philosophy (Psychology and Ethics).
- 200 Sociology (Government, Education, etc.).
- 300 Language.
- 400 Science.
- 500 Useful arts.
- 600 Fine arts and Amusements.
- 700 Literature.
- 800 History.
- 900 Biography.

To determine the location of a book the catalog should be used. In the upper left hand corner of the catalog card is found a number in red ink. This same number will be found on the back of the book (except in fiction), and these arranged in order on the stacks.

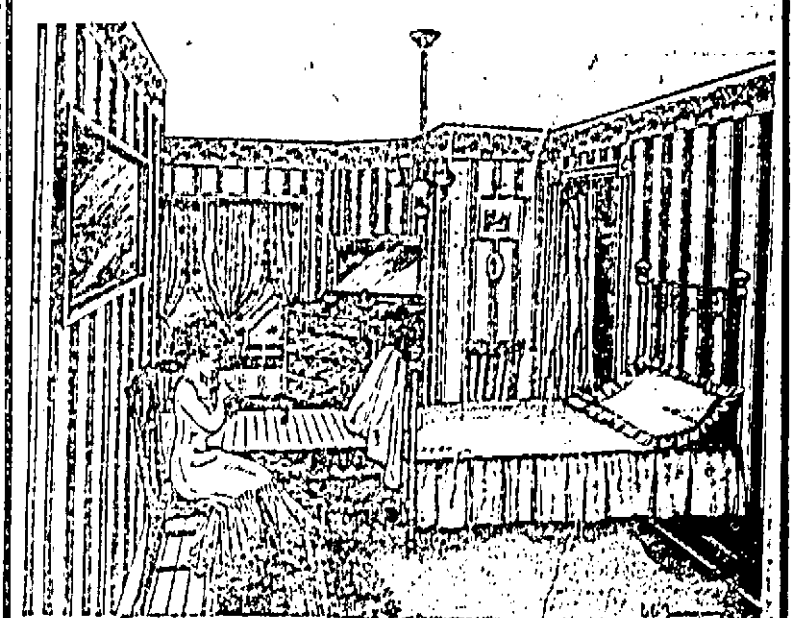

The 000 class and the 100 class are on the stack nearest the Children's Dept., and the numbers read as do the columns of a newspaper and towards the Reading room. The one exception to this rule is Biography, which is next to the books of fiction.

At first sight, one might think the arrangement difficult to understand; but it is really very simple when once followed out. Try it, and find out.

Wanted the Saliva.
A woman living in a small town near Butte, Mont., purchased from an art dealer there a water-color outfit, with printed directions for its use. These directions included, among other things, instructions to moisten the brushes for the first time with saliva. In a day or two the dealer received the following note: "Dear Sir—The outfit is complete as ordered, except the saliva. Yours truly, Mrs. Blank."

What Kind of an "Office."
Once upon a time a child who was asked on an examination paper to define a mountain range, replied: "A large-sized cuckoo stove." The same method of reasoning seems to go with older growth. A recent examination paper at the Sheffield Scientific school at Yale contained the question, "What is the office of the gastric juice?" And the answer on one paper read: "The stomach."—Everybody's Magazine.

Bedroom Furnishings

EVERY one knows we spend nearly half of our lives in bed, and considerable time in dressing. So besides the pleasure you derive from good bedroom furniture, you can't expect to accomplish much in life unless you rest well. There are no furnishings in any part of the house from which you can get so much comfort, for so little money; and our bedroom furniture comes in so many beautiful styles, and we have such a lovely assortment of these, that if you come in and go over our stock, you will not be satisfied until some of it belongs to you.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT.

The west coast of southern Florida is the most peaceful resort this side of Paradise, because nature and the natives are still in their primitive state. The former is seldom disturbed except by a hurricane which sweeps across the gulf and the lowlands three or four times in the course of a century.

The last storm of this kind visited this peaceful region last October and the fine forests, weakened by turpentine fends, went down before the fury of the gale, which raged for more than twenty-four hours, accompanied by a deluge which flooded the country.

About the only thing that could be damaged was the orange crop, just ready to be harvested, and the few men who were interested in fruit growing, suffered heavy loss. The Orange river, a little stream five miles long, is lined with beautiful groves, on either side. When the storm struck, the trees were loaded down with ripe fruit, which the wind whipped off, and then the rain, which came down in torrents, flooded the land, washing the fruit into the river until the surface resembled a golden stream.

Thus thousands of boxes of oranges were gathered and lost, while the orchards were seriously damaged. Yet this end of the state produced a fair crop of fruit, which the average grower was satisfied to sell at 80 cents per box on the tree.

While nature was being stirred up by the wind, the land speculators, which infest the state like a swarm of locusts, are attempting to inspire the natives with a little speculative ambition, but all to no purpose.

The man who has always lived in this perpetual summer climate, is not easily inspired. He knows the limitations of the soil and is familiar with the failures, which are evidenced by deserted shacks and neglected clearings, on every hand.

So when the northern promoter blows into town with a portfolio of blue prints, descriptive of land for which he has secured the agency, the native knows more about the land than he does, and his oratory is wasted, and he soon becomes the laughing stock of the community.

One of these enterprising gentlemen alighted from the train at the little town of Cleveland last November, a town which has been growing backwards for the last twenty years.

The lady with him he introduced as his stenographer, and he wanted to know how soon he could secure lumber for forty houses, and where he could find an office building.

The natives watched him with kindling suspicion, refusing to go into matters. They sized him up as a "hot air" capitalist, and when he moved three times in three months, to save a dollar a month rent they called him a good financier.

He is now living in a deserted shack without doors or windows, and his stenographer does the cooking when they can find anything to cook. It is needless to say that they hail from Chicago.

In the meantime he is cultivating a garden patch to demonstrate the richness of the soil. His methods are a little peculiar as he plants flower pots filled with fertilizer and covers them over with sand. The seeds, of course, sprout readily, and produce luxuriant growth, and the deception is liable to capture some northern sucker, but fails to impress the natives.

It is gratifying to sojourn in a country, for a time, which is undisturbed by socialism or radical reform. The landscape looks very much as it did half a century ago, and the present generation is a duplicate of the forefathers. The same easy-going people, never in a hurry, and taking all the time there is to live.

The little city of Lakeland, with 6,000 population, and growing rapidly, is the best inland city in southwest Florida. It is the center of the strawberry industry and cultivated land commands fabulous prices.

The stores are modern and the stocks well kept up, but an air of indifference pervades the place and the merchant gives you an air of conferring a favor when he condescends to show goods.

A party of tourists landed in town at nine o'clock, the other night, and started out to find something to eat. As they entered a restaurant the city lighting service suspended business, and the colored brother, who works for a consideration, informed them that the illumination in the kitchen had gone out but was expected to resume at any minute.

At 10:20 they were still waiting and in answer to the question as to the town being run on a moonlight schedule the obliging waiter said: "Yes, boss, but dis am de dark ob de moon."

The city lighting plant was liable to spasms about once a week, when all business was suspended, but there's always another day coming, in the south, and the popular motto is, never do today what you can do tomorrow.

This happy-go-lucky spirit of indifference may have had something to do in retarding development, but the northern land speculator finds it difficult to break into, and so depends on the north for victims.

Orange blossoms, mocking birds and perpetual summer, appeal to the man who burns out nine months of the year, and he longs for a ten-acre farm which promises so much of comfort and luxury.

The native has the land and enjoys the climate, but he discovered a long time ago that a subsoil of sand, ten feet deep, isn't worth tilling.

The south is rejecting over the political outlook. With the lower house of congress captured by the democrats, and a good working force in the senate, they expect to do business, and yet the democratic party, in the south, is not a free trade party. The south needs protection and the people here recognize it.

Just why President Taft was so indignant about Canadian reciprocity, as a republican measure, is difficult to understand. The democratic victory was so sweeping at the last election that the republican party can well afford to allow their successful rivals to assume all responsibility. This they are willing to do, especially in the south, and it would be good politics, at least, to give them a free hand.

The race problem, in this sunny land, is gradually but surely taking care of itself. The people of the north are coming to realize, that the south alone can handle the proposition intelligently, and it is being done.

The best friend that the negro has is the southern man. He deals with him kindly, not influenced by sentiment, and encourages him in practical ways. The south is where he belongs, and where he will continue to abide. The work of Booker T. Washington is endorsed and highly recommended.

There has never been a time in history when the north and the south were so closely united as today. The influx of northern capital and enterprise is doing much to develop this long-neglected section, and even the land promoter may prove a blessing in disguise.

The first of four illustrated articles from the pen of Dr. David Houston, appears in the American Field of Saturday, May 6th. The writer spent six weeks in the Yellowstone Park last summer, and the articles have to do with his experience as a fisherman. They are well worth reading.

Heart to Heart

Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

A FRIEND OF MAN.

Let me live in my house by the side of the road
Where the race of men pass by.
They are good, they are bad, they are seem, they are strong,
Wise, foolish, and so on I.
Then why should I sit in the corner's seat
Or hurt the cynic's ban?
Let me live in my house by the side of the road
And be a friend of man.

The man who wrote these lines, Sam Walter Foss, died recently.

He was called one of our minor poets, but he wrote one poem, of which the above is the concluding verse, that will keep his memory fragrant many a year.

The poem is entitled "The House by the Side of the Road" and was suggested by a passage in Homer. "He was a friend of man and he lived by the side of the road."

Therefore your "roadside settlements"—society's most practical approach to good Samaritanism.

The way to be a friend of God is to be a friend to man—man, good, bad, indifferent—humanity.

It is the thing worth while.

Human life is so short that most of the things men grab for seem grotesque in their paltry cheapness. Lofly claims, lavish display, pride, exclusiveness and scorn, how they shrink when placed alongside the virtues of common kindness, charity and neighborliness!

"Where the race of men go by"—By the dusty, frequented ways which make men's thoroughfares, where the caravans and the common people go—

To live down there by the side of the road, to live in that friendly frame of mind which sees in every man a brother, that is to be a friend of man.

To befriend is to serve.

And so the friend of man will try to make some pale face brighter, greet the weary pilgrim, give the cup of water, smile the ripples of healing to the fainting heart and lift up the fallen.

A friend of man!

There could be no greater life.

When twice a thousand years have flown, still blessed are the roads and highways of the Holy Land because of one who lived down by the side of the road and was the Friend of man!

Rainy Day Thoughts.

"When I used to live in the west," said the New York woman, "there seemed to be a good excuse for the rain. Whenever it rained we said: 'How fine it will be for the crops,' and stayed indoors gladly, but here in New York there's no earthly excuse for its raining day after day, and the shops so full of beautiful things we would like to buy."

Water Meter Hammer.

There is an enormous fortune, with the blessing of suffering humanity, waiting for the man who invents a water meter that will not hammer through the pipes of a house when a bathtub faucet is running.—New York Press.

NEW ADDITION TO CONGRESSIONAL SET.
Miss Lucille Smith, daughter of Congressman Smith, from Michigan, one of the latest additions to the younger congressional set. She has already become a favorite.

Romans 6:6-11
What shall we say then? Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

God forbid. How shall we, that are dead to sin, live any longer therein?

Know ye not, that so many of us as were baptized into Jesus Christ were baptized into his death?

Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death: that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so we also should walk in newness of life.

For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:

Knowing this, that our old man is crucified with him, that the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

For sin that is dead is freed from us.

Now if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:

Knowing that Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

For in that he died, he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, he liveth unto God.

Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be dead unto sin, but alive unto God through Jesus Christ our Lord.

Fine Sentiment.

In an English home at Winchester we find above the hotel of the door this charming sentiment: "Farewell goes out sighing; welcome ever smiles," and a hall panel has, "The Lord keep thee in thy going out and coming in." We are all familiar with the Italian word "salve," meaning welcome, that is found quite often in the vestibules of hotels or public houses where meals are served. It is not an advertisement for salve, as a man from the country with more money than brains told his wife.

Society and Religion.

"Evidently it is not of real and given society that we are speaking when we explain by the action of society the religious attributes of the human soul. It is of ideal society, of society in so far as it strives after that, that justice, that happiness, that truth, that superior harmony, of which religion is the expression."—E. Boutroux.

DUBLIN URGES SUFFRAGE BILL.

Lord Mayor and Deputation Appear Before House of Commons.

London, May 12.—The advocates of woman's suffrage gave their cause another boost in the house of commons when Lord Mayor John J. Russell, at the head of a deputation from the corporation of Dublin, presented at the bar of the house a petition urging the passage of a female suffrage bill at the present session of parliament. The members of the deputation appeared in the full regalia of their offices and the ceremony was attended with picturesque details.

Madstones.

The madstone is a stone popularly supposed to cure hydrophobia. Such stones, usually of the size and shape of an egg, are supposedly preserved in parts of the United States, because they are believed to absorb venom. The madstone is a light, porous stone of greenish color. They are quite rare, being only occasionally found in the south.

GRAPHIC PICTURE OF BATTLE OF JUAREZ ON TUESDAY LAST

J. C. WILMARTH WRITES OF THE BATTLE BETWEEN INSURGENTS AND FEDERALS.

HEARD BULLETS WHIZ

Could See All the Fighting From Their Back Veranda and Bullets and Shell Struck Their House in El Paso.

People generally have regarded the fighting between the insurgents and federal troops at Juarez, Mexico, as an opera bouffe warfare. True, the press dispatches have told of severe fighting, bloodshed and so forth, but Juarez is so far away from Juarez and El Paso that it is doubtful if the full force of the trouble down there has been appreciated.

J. C. Wilmarth, at one time one of the owners of The Gazette and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Bliss, lives in El Paso where he is manager of the El Paso Herald. In the following letter written on Tuesday evening before Juarez was captured by the federal troops, Mr. Wilmarth gives a most graphic picture of the fighting which was just across the river from his home. In fact, so close were the contestants that the bullets struck the Wilmarth house and bits of shell fell on their sidewalk. It was not an opera bouffe war they witnessed, but real, true fighting by determined men. Mr. Wilmarth writes Mrs. Bliss as follows:

Tuesday night. There has been a battle right across the street from us over since yesterday forenoon. All the plans were made for more peace but some of Juarez's men took the job in their own hands and came down the river half a dozen at a time. When enough were together they rushed a ditch bank that gave them a chance to make the whole length of the federal trenches.

The federals went back into Juarez and the insurgents followed them. In the afternoon they escaped the federals up in the center of the town. There was hard fighting all afternoon—and Juarez was saying all the time: "No, indeed, my men will make no attack." The men were so far inside the Juarez limits that they wouldn't pay any attention to him and at four o'clock he ordered his whole army to advance.

At 4:30 he countermanded the order. All this was in the afternoon. At midnight his officers made him be so on order for a general attack at daylight.

It began at 4:30 this morning and made so much noise it brought everybody in El Paso out on the roofs. Rifles, machine guns and cannon were all going.

The firing lasted all day and they are still popping tonight. Part of Juarez is on fire but the two forces seem to be about where they were this morning.

The federals hold the center of town and the rebels are all around the edge in adobe houses.

We can sit up on the back porch and see all that happens, but we stay in the house most of the time. The neighbors say they heard bullets hit our house this morning and yesterday a spent ball fell on our front sidewalk. It was too hot to touch.

Two pieces of shrapnel shell fell in the street pretty nearly in line with us and people have been hit with bullets all over El Paso.

FOGELL CASE WAS CONTINUED TODAY

Most of Morning's Work Taken Up in Securing Jury to Try Beloit Man Charged With Larceny.

Considerable time was given over to the selection and examination of the jury this morning in the trial of the case of the State against Frank Fogell of Beloit, charged with the theft of tools from the Fairbanks-Morse manufacturing company of Beloit and brought here on a charge of venue from the Beloit court. Several special venire for talkmen were issued before the twelve men who are hearing the case were finally selected, both attorneys striking names from the list. The jury which will pass a verdict on the case is composed of J. K. Jensen, Otto Bloedel, E. W. Carlin, Neil McVey, S. H. Mearns, A. W. Hurlinger, A. Stern, J. W. Van Boven, Edward Kelly, H. C. Proctor, B. M. Goldman and F. S. Winslow.

Having settled upon the jury list, the state's case was opened and Chief of Police Quinn was placed on the witness stand. After a short examination by the District Attorney, Attorney H. W. Adams of Beloit cross-examined him as to the tools taken from the Fogell home on April 8. Warren Goro was the next witness for the state. When the noon recess was taken Attorney Adams had not finished his cross-examination.

The taking of further testimony was being continued this afternoon. The case will not be finished until Monday.

MISS DOTY THIRD IN CONTEST LAST NIGHT

Janesville Representative At White-water Contest Ranked Third—Daughter of Judge Grimm First.

Miss Margaret Doty of this city, who represented Janesville and the league composed of Evansville, Milton, Beloit and Janesville, at the district declamatory contest at Whitewater last evening, was awarded third place by the judges. First place went to Miss Lorena Grimm, daughter of Judge Grimm, who represented Jefferson. Miss Doty's score was 90.5, while Miss Grimm's was 92.5.

There were seven contestants in the declamatory event and while it is a decided honor to win a place, it comes as more or less of a disappointment, that a better place was not secured by the Janesville speaker. Miss Doty was at her best last evening and spoke with a charm and expression which seemed sure of winning. In the estimation of many of the auditors at the contest she far surpassed the winner of second place in the rendition of her selection.

Miss Grimm had as her selection, "The Changing Hour," and declaimed with excellent expression and appearance. Miss Doty had the same selection.

tion with which she won first place at Beloit.

The judges were: Supt. A. J. Hutten of Waukesha; Supt. Mary E. Bradford of Kenosha; Prof. W. A. Garfield of Waukesha; Supt. Philip A. Kold of Wauwatosa; and Supt. C. E. Loomis of Waukesha.

In the declamatory contest the representative from Redwood was awarded first place, and the Whitewater representative, second. Mr. Thompson of Beloit, who spoke for this league failed to place.

"PHONY" DIAMONDS HAD APPEARANCES OF REAL

Peddler Picked Up Yesterday By Police Who Was Laden With All Kinds of Fake Jewelry.

Laden with diamonds, rings and razors of burnished steel, a man who gave his name as Fred Simpson and his home as Richmond Center, was picked up near the Croak Brewery in a joyous state of intoxication yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police Appleby and taken to the police station. The supposed diamonds and diamond sets in the rings proved to be "phony," although of a kind to attract the inexperienced eye and the man told the chief he purchased the razors in Chicago for thirty cents each and peddled them through the country. As there was nothing to indicate the man was anything but a peddler, he was allowed to leave town.

Drunk Woman.

"Too frequent and too many" blunders from the "cup that cheers" disturbed the equilibrium of a woman on the street and her actions on West Milwaukee street attracted the attention of passersby and people in the stores. She was picked up in front of the office of the Beloit & Elgin Lumber Company and taken to the police station.

THINGS PROGRESS IN MATTER OF TRAINING SCHOOL PREPARATION

Board Met This Morning and Work of Improvement of Jefferson School Will Proceed Rapidly.

Confronted with the question as to whether it was the duty of the county training school board or the local board of education to supervise the remodeling of the Jefferson school as the home of that school, Charles Moore of Marshfield, a member of the board, and Principal Lovett of Evansville, this morning met at the rooming house with Charles Latham, a member of the board of education. After getting the opinions of several of the members of the school board of this city, it was decided that the county training school board should proceed with the remodeling of the work subject to the approval of the local board of education.

This fact being established, the board will go ahead with the work as fast as possible. The committee has for its chairman, Charles E. Moore of Marshfield, the other members being, Earl Cleveland of Beloit and County Superintendent O. D. Antkowiak. Since the location of the school in Janesville there has been no let up in the activities of these men and it is expected that from now on things will progress rapidly. Supt. Antkowiak, who has been in the hospital following an operation for appendicitis, will be able to get out and take up the work in the near future.

The committee this morning looked over the plans and specifications of the improvements. The $1,000 given by the Industrial and Commercial club of this city through the board of education will be expended in a most judicious manner on the third floor of the Jefferson school building and a commodious and up to date set of rooms will be the result. What was formerly the big room used by the high school will be divided into three rooms, one an assembly chamber and the other two recitation rooms. Besides these there will be a room fitted up for an office and several cloak rooms.

The work will be let out by competitive bids which will probably be called for within the next week. The plans and specifications may be seen at the office of the county clerk.

Another thing accomplished by the committee under the supervision of Principal Lovett is the publication of the catalogue. These pamphlets which are by far the most complete and well appearing of any in the state will be distributed Monday. They are paper covered and the outside is done in a combination of brown and red. Cuts of the county board, the training school board, the faculty, the Jefferson school and several other pictures are features of the publication. Many good articles by members of the board and faculty appear in the book, besides a tentative outline of the courses and the plans for the summer session by Mr. Lovett. Two thousand of these will be distributed throughout the county.

ANNIVERSARY DATE DULY CELEBRATED

Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Denison of Evansville, Entertained For Mr. and Mrs. James Powles.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, May 12.—Dr. and Mrs. Ernest Denison entertained eighteen relatives at their home last evening for their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James Powles. This worthy couple had been married thirty-seven years and the gathering was planned as a surprise to them. It was an informal affair, but was greatly enjoyed. Among the guests were Mrs. Powles' five sisters with their husbands and families and Mrs. Oliver Reese of Madison.

Miss Hazeltine Lectured. Very interesting and instructive was the lecture on popular books given last evening by Miss Mary E. Hazeltine of Madison. She gave a very entertaining synopsis of the blue bird and the paper and mentioned several new and popular books giving a short sketch of their contents.

BARN AND SHED OF CROAK BREWING CO. BURNING TO GROUND

Fire of Unknown Cause Was Disccovered About Two This Afternoon—Loss Will Be Large—Fight Fire From Brewery.

Fire of unknown origin was discovered in the barn and shed of the Croak Brewing Company on North River street near the river bank shortly before two o'clock this afternoon. Both departments were immediately called and every energy was put forth to check the blaze. The flames had gathered a headway which was hard to overcome and fanned by the wind it was soon evident that the barn and shed could not be saved.

The entire efforts of the fire departments were then centered on the saving of the brewery and the surrounding buildings of the coal company. At three o'clock it was thought that the fire would be safely checked and that the loss would be confined to the barn and the shed. There was a large amount of grain and hay in the buildings and with other equipment and supplies which were stored in the buildings will bring the total loss to a considerable amount. There were no horses in the buildings.

It was not known what the cause of the fire could have been, but the theory was advanced that it might have been sparks from the train on the cut-off, which pass immediately in the rear of the buildings. The fire was finally extinguished at a little after three o'clock. The barn was entirely burned to the ground but portions of the shed were saved. The brewery caught fire but the flames were not out before any considerable damage had been caused. The departments spent over an hour in hard fighting.

The loss according to a conservative statement to be in the neighborhood of $1,000 and $5,000. It was considered very lucky that no more damage was done as the flames had a good start before the departments could reach the scene and the wind was treacherous.

VERDICT FOR WARD IN LIBEL ACTION

Jury Brought in Special Verdict of $1,000 for New York Lawyer Against Pres. Johnson of American League.

Late yesterday afternoon the jury in the slander and libel case of John M. Ward against President Ban Johnson of the American Baseball League brought in a verdict of $1,000 damages in Ward's favor. Ward sued for $50,000. The cause arose out of the defeat of Ward for the presidency of the National League, in which it is said, Johnson was mainly active in preventing Ward from securing the place. Ward alleged that Johnson had called him a "trickster."

The principal reason for Johnson's opposition to Ward was said to be the fact that Ward several years ago organized a brotherhood among the players.

Ward is well known in this city where he made his home for a number of years. He came here from Pennsylvania and pitched for the Athletics, the baseball team that made Janesville famous for a time. From here he went to Birmingham, N. Y., and later joined the Providence, R. I., club. It was while he was pitching for Providence that he was pitched for the world's championship and Ward pitched the game that decided Providence's favor. This game won him renown and he entered major league baseball. He was in charge of an All-American team that toured the world. During his baseball days Ward had been preparing for a life occupation and afterward he completed his studies in law and was admitted to the bar, and started practice in New York City.

GOOD SCORES MADE AT SHOOT FRIDAY

Janesville Gunners Are Becoming More Proficient and Some Splendid Records Were Made Yesterday.

Janesville trapshooters are becoming more accurate in their aim and some very good scores were made yesterday at the practice shoot of the Janesville Gun Club at the Fair Grounds yesterday. It was the sixth time the gunners have been out and the honors went to W. H. Frey who broke forty-two out of fifty targets. Three professional shots, men representing well known makers of cartridges, were at the shoot and Mr. Frey's record topped the score of one of these and was quite close to those of the other two out of town men. The records of the event are given below:

Name	Score
J. McVicker	38
F. Solberg, Milwaukee	36
E. Drake	35
H. B. Matthews, Chicago	36
H. B. Patterson, Milwaukee	36

The local gun men are preparing for their first annual tournament to be held here on Friday, May 26. A large out of town delegation is looked for, including some of the well known professionals, so that in the line of an exhibition alone it will be well worth attending. Outside the professional events there promises to be some lively matches among the amateurs. Special arrangements are being made for the entertainment of visitors.

Evansville Tournament.

Of interest to the Janesville gunners will be the fact that the Evansville gun club will hold its first annual tournament in that city on June 1. Several of the Evansville men have taken part in the practice shoots held here and it is likely that several from here will go to the Evansville tournament to take part. Evansville boasts that it has the finest grounds in the state and will use now western automatic traps. It will be up to Evansville to put on a pretty fine tournament to exceed the one Janesville will pull off.

ALTROCK RELEASED FROM MINNEAPOLIS BALL TEAM

Famous Pitcher Who Helped Sox Win World's Championship Turned Loose on Bush League.

"Happy" Nick Altrock, who a few years ago was mainly responsible for the Chicago White Sox team winning the world's championship over the Chicago Cubs, has been turned loose from organized baseball to go back to the bush leagues or quit the game. Altrock who has been with the Minneapolis American association team of which Joe Cantillon, a former Janesville boy, is manager, has been unconditionally released. Altrock played with the Janesville team in a past season game at Yost Park. The reason for his release is that his pitching arm has utterly failed him this year.

BELOIT W. O. W. COMING TO PLAY CUBS HERE SUNDAY

Fast Punch from Line City Will Meet Local Stars at Dunn's Field Tomorrow Afternoon.

Having sharpened their claws in a practice game last Sunday the Janesville Cubs feel well prepared for their contest tomorrow afternoon at Dunn's field with the W. O. W. baseball team of Beloit. The Line City nine has considerable strength and may get several patches of hair from the sides of the little cubs in the fray tomorrow be-

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS TO CROSS BATS WITH JANESVILLE SUNDAY

Varsity Sophomores Will Meet Breen's Baseball Nine At Fair Grounds Here Tomorrow Afternoon.

Now that the baseball scribbles have discovered the real reason for the big batting averages in the major leagues lies in the new makeup of the baseballs with the cork-rubber cores, Janesville fans are beginning to understand why it is that the Janesville team made so many runs last Sunday against Beloit. The reason: The Janesville players know the ball would go all over the lot if they hit it, while the Beloit men were in the dark regarding the new construction of balls. Of course this is all lovely when the home team is winning, but the fans perhaps would have liked it better had Beloit been in on the secret so the score would not have been one-sided.

Whether they know the secret or not, the University Sophomores, who play here Sunday at the Fair Grounds against Breen's sluggers, have learned the game and will keep the locals on their mottle if they expect to win. The Varsity players have a clever pitching staff and some very good fielders. Janesville's probable lineup will be: Cronan, c; Smith, p; Breen, 1b; Miller, 2b; Simpson, 3b; Reynolds, rf; Williams, cf; and Smith or Clark, lf.

Stoughton Defeated in Exciting Game at Milton Yesterday. By Score of 10 to 6—Milton Leads.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milton, Wis., May 12.—The local high school defeated the fast Stoughton aggregation in their fourth league game here today by a score of 10 to 6. Milton had what appeared to be a safe lead of 3 runs in the ninth, when an error of judgment and a hit scored three runs after two were out. Both teams then tightened up and played evenly until the thirteenth, when the locals pounded in four runs and victory. The score:

THE CHIROPRACTORS SAY THERE IS NO NEED OF SUFFERING

Bodily ailments all come from a cause and the only way to get well is to have the cause removed. Noxious drugs and cutting the body to pieces is often downright cruelty. More people are killed by drugs and operations than by war.

Nature will make you well if it is intelligently assisted and if the cause of the ailment is removed. The Chiropractic Science points the way to perfect health. Hundreds who have got well by Chiropractic adjustments are proof of this statement. The body is a complicated machine, more complicated than a hundred times than the finest piece of machinery. Every part of the body, every organ is subject to the life impulses from the brain, actually derive their power, their vitality from the brain. If these life currents, or nervous impulses are checked or stopped, by subluxations in the spine, you immediately get sick. Every pain and ache is a signal that some part of the body is not receiving these life impulses. Invariably the cause is due to a subluxation of the spine. Remove this subluxation by a Chiropractic adjustment and nature will make you well again.

You who suffer, who have tried every other method, who have not been relieved, should come to us. 98% of the people who come to the Chiropractors get well again. If the Chiropractic Science was not accomplishing wonders it never could have made such a record as this. You will be convinced when you come to us for a consultation. AMERICA IN A MOVE TO REASSURE MEXICO

State Department Sends Message Asserting That Talk of Intervention is "Foolish."

Washington, May 12.—President Taft, through Secretary of State Knox, has authorized Lane Wilson, United States ambassador in the City of Mexico to deny with positiveness "all foolish stories" of intervention by the United States in Mexico.

Secretary Knox's telegram to Mr. Wilson, which also is to be made public in Mexico, was sent following a session of the cabinet in which the Mexican tangle took up much of the time. It read:

"You are authorized officially to deny, through the local press and otherwise, as under instructions to do so, all foolish stories of intervention, then which nothing could be further from the intentions of the government of the United States, which has the sincerest friendship for Mexico and the Mexican people, to whom it hopes will soon return the blessings of peace, which is not concerned with Mexico's internal political affairs and which demands nothing but the respect and protection of American life and property in the neighboring republic. You will use the language of this instruction."

Legitimate commerce between the United States and the border towns of Mexico now in the hands of insurgents will not be interfered with by the United States government. The intricate problem of international law arising from the Mexican border situation was discussed by the cabinet, and the general policy was laid down that there would be no interruption of trade which did not violate the neutrality of the United States.

The time table of a south of France railway announces: "That tickets for children are not issued on this line. In the case, however, of two children of one family traveling together a single ticket will be sufficient for the two. Should the family consist of only one child application should be made to the booking clerk, who will issue a portion of a ticket at a moiety of the usual fare."

DICKINSON RESIGNS AS WAR SECRETARY

HENRY L. STIMSON IS APPOINTED SECRETARY OF WAR BY PRESIDENT.

PRIVATE AFFAIRS THE CAUSE

Democratic Member of Taft's Cabinet Retires to Devote His Attention to Personal Business So Soon as His Successor Qualifies.

Washington, May 13.—The president announced the resignation from the cabinet of Jacob M. Dickinson as secretary of war and the appointment of Henry L. Stimson of New York as his successor. Mr. Dickinson was the Democratic member of the cabinet and Mr. Stimson was the candidate of the Republicans of New York for governor at the last election.

This announcement was made from the White House and occasioned great surprise.

In the letters exchanged between the president and Mr. Dickinson no reasons, other than that of pressing private affairs, is given for the secretary's retirement.

Resigns on April 28.

Washington, April 28, 1911.

Dear Mr. President: As my affairs have recently so changed as to require my personal attention in Tennessee, I herewith tender my resignation as secretary of war, to take effect as soon as may be compatible with the public interest. I cannot express to you how much I appreciate the honor and confidence which you have bestowed upon me and the uniform kindness with which you have always treated me. The memory of having enjoyed the privilege of being associated with you and my colleagues of the cabinet in the discussion of so many great questions affecting the welfare of our country will always be cherished by me as inestimable.

With all good wishes for you and with the hope that one so able, patriotic and devoted may long be spared for the service of his country, I am, Very sincerely,

J. M. DICKINSON.

Taft Accepts Resignation.
The White House, Washington, May 8, 1911.

My Dear Secretary Dickinson: I have your letter of resignation and am very sorry that the personal considerations as you have explained them at length to me leave me no alternative and require me to accept it. Since you wrote it, you have signified to me that if I thought your leaving the war department would embarrass me in view of conditions in Mexico, you would request to sacrifice your personal interests and continue in office. While I fully appreciate the high sense of duty that prompts your offer, I am glad to say that recent developments indicate that no crisis is likely to arise making your withdrawal now any more of an embarrassment than at a later date or justify my asking from you such a sacrifice.

Administration Most Satisfactory.

In consenting to a severance of our official relations I wish to tell you how satisfactory your administration of your great department is. It involved the care and control of the army, the government of the Philippines and Porto Rico, the construction of the Panama canal, incidentally, the government of the canal zone. In every way your work has been admirable and entitles you to the gratitude of your countrymen.

Personally, I wish to thank you for what you have done, and for your invariable sense of loyalty to the administration, and to express my deep regret that our delightful intimacy growing out of our official family relation is to end.

I sincerely hope that you may be able to achieve success in the important personal business that now claims your earnest effort. Believe me that you carry with you into private life my high respect and affectionate regard. Sincerely yours,

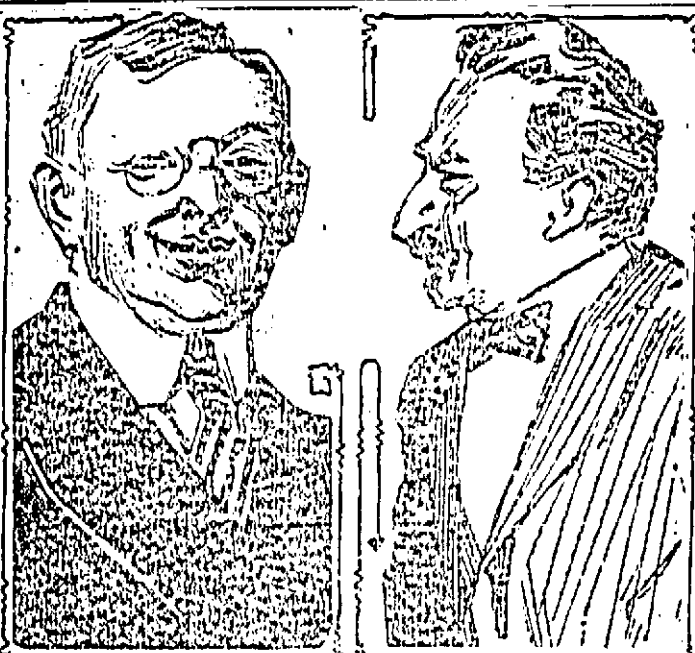

WILLIAM H. TAFT.

J. M. Dickinson, Secretary of War.
P. S.—I make this acceptance to take effect as of the time of qualification of your successor, which, at your request, I hope to secure by May 15, 1911.

Eighteen Indicted for Lynching.

CHARLES H. HYDE. SAMUEL UNTERMEYER.

PROTEGE OF GAYNOR INDICTED FOR BRIBERY.

New York City.—State Chamberlain Chas. H. Hyde, personal friend and political protege of Mayor Gaynor, is alleged to have been indicted by the Carnegie grand jury. The offense with which the city official is charged is punishable by imprisonment of not more than 10 years or by a fine of not more than $5,000, or both. The conviction also forfeits any office held by the official and forever disqualifies him from holding any public office in the state. The charges are based upon a series of discrepancies in the Carnegie trust scandal upon which light has been thrown by the recent investigations. His counsel will be Samuel Untermyer.

St. Louis, May 13.—Miss Phoebe W. Couzins, in late years recognized throughout the United States as the leader of her sex against woman suffrage, is stranded at the Terminal hotel, with scarcely enough money to buy her luncheon. For the last few days she has subsisted mostly on bread and water.

Miss Couzins has been at the hotel for more than three weeks and was forced to appeal to friends to lend her enough money to buy a ticket back to Washington. She is more than 60 years old and an invalid. She formerly was United States marshal at St. Louis and has a degree of bachelor of law from Washington university.

Mrs. H. L. Wheeler Gets Record Alimony From Yale Man.

New Haven, Conn., May 13.—Judge Gager of the superior court granted a divorce and $100,000 alimony to Mrs. Henry Lord Wheeler, wife of a Yale professor in organic chemistry. This is the first time a Yale professor has figured in a divorce court as a defendant, and the alimony awarded is said to be the largest ever given in a Connecticut divorce suit. Professor Wheeler comes of a Chicago family and is said to have inherited a large fortune. He was born in Chicago in 1867 and was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific school, Yale, in 1890. He married Eva Swarthout, an actress, in 1906.

WOULD ADMIT NEW MEXICO.

House Committee Republicans Balk at Arizona Judges' Recall.

Washington, May 13.—A minority report disapproving of the recall of judges in the Arizona constitution and urging the admission of New Mexico as a state without further formality was made to the house by Republican members of the committee on territories.

The minority objects to the Democratic recommendation that New Mexico be not admitted until it votes upon a proposed amendment making future amendments to its constitution easier to accomplish.

The Republicans contend the provisions for amendment of the constitution are not more severe than in many other states or the Constitution of the United States.

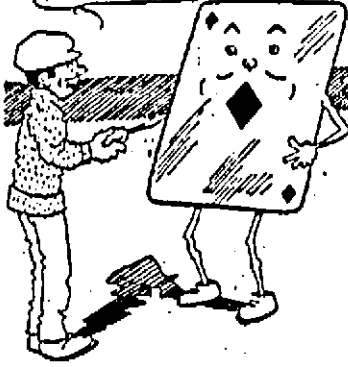

ASKS FOR TRUST DECISIONS.

Supreme Court Urged to Hasten Rulings to Help Business.

New York, May 13.—A remarkable petition has been addressed to the nine justices of the Supreme court of the United States by the brokerage firm of J. S. Bach & Co. of this city, urging that the court hasten its decisions in the Standard Oil and Tobacco trust cases.

The letter declares that the business of the country is at a standstill because of the feeling of uncertainty regarding the pending decision, which is to define the rights and limits of corporations under the law, and closes with the appeal that the court extend its sittings in order that these important cases be settled and business revived.

Let the public once recognize that a man is doing some one thing even a trifle better than it has ever been done before, and he is quickly advertised by a band of cheap competitors who neglect their own affairs for the sole purpose of knocking and sitting up to take notice of him and his increasing business. In one particular he is doubly secure: He will have no real competitors—envy is a competitor.

Baby's Health Demands the Sturgis Cart

The Luxury back and Luxury springs of the Sturgis are contained in no other cart. Luxury back means that while the old style go-cart had a wire or bail reaching across the handles to support the back of the cart, the STURGIS HAS NONE. The old bail back conveyed every jar and jolt of the pavement right to the head and back of the infant—the Sturgis wards off EVERY ONE of the jolts. The Luxury springs, under both front and rear of the seat, contribute to the easy riding of the carriage.

Your most critical inspection of these carriages is solicited. They are the best designed, best constructed and best finished perambulators which expert builders have yet conceived.

The Sturgis carriage with the new Luxury back is for an infant an added assurance of a robust manhood.

Sturgis carts from $5.50 to $22.00. They open and close with one motion.

Karl O. Salzmann,

Madison, Wis., Dec. 12, 1910.

The Madison Oxygenator Co.

Gentlemen:—Having used the "OXYPATHOR" purchased of you September 1st, 1910, for several periods (of 7 to 21 days) in treating "Minister's Sore Throat and Nervous Debility"—I am delighted to report that the apparatus has given the highest satisfaction.

No other treatment, including change of climate and "Emser Kraechenbrunnen" has done as much for me, at a far greater expense and more trouble, as your simple and agreeable method.

Twice we had occasion to apply the OXYPATHOR in treating children's ailments and were greatly pleased with the almost instantaneous cure.

Wishing you abundant success and thanking you for the interest taken in my obstinate case, I beg to remain

Yours truly,

Mr. Wm. Mezger, Mgr.

Dear Sir:—It gives me pleasure to state that the OXYPATHOR purchased from you on Nov. 30th, 1910, when I had a severe attack of Inflammatory Rheumatism, has cured me completely.

After two hours use of the machine I began to feel its effect, and I recommend your machine to anyone who is afflicted.

Respectfully yours,

STOMACH TROUBLE CURED

Fond du Lac, Wis., Aug. 27, 1910.

The Oxygenator Co.

Gents:—I wish to recommend your OXYPATHOR for what it has done for me. I suffered with stomach trouble for 7 long years, and doped myself with all kinds of medicines, which only gave me temporary relief, and reaction of it made me so weak that I could not do anything. Then in January last I took sick with the Grippe and this upset my whole nervous system. I could not sleep at night and had to walk the floor as my left side was entirely numb, my stomach got worse and I was wasting away being only a walking skeleton, and three of our best doctors could not give me any relief.

Then I started with your OXYPATHOR which I bought from you on February 28th, 1910, and I felt the effects from the beginning and gained strength gradually, and felt like working. Now after four months treatment without a drop of medicine I have gained twelve pounds, feel like a new woman, can do all my housework, my stomach is better than it ever was and I have an enormous appetite. This of course was a surprise to the people who thought I would not last long. I have also used the same OXYPATHOR in my family for Rheumatism with good results, and wish that every sufferer should know this.

Mrs. Fred Krueger,
432 Ruggles St.

It treats the disease by Blood-Aeration, making available in intensified form the infusion into the blood of greatly increased quantities of the most powerful vitalizer in existence--Nature's Oxygen.

The OXYGENATOR simply, safely, surely and speedily brings back to health regardless of the kind of ailment or affection, its severity, duration, or the failure of former systems or methods of treatment; it frees from drugs, their danger, disease with its suffering, and expense with its hardships. A Home treatment so simple and safe that a child may use it with complete success.

This strictly Modern Method makes every intelligent person supreme master of his own health; always ready in an emergency, immediate in its action, prompt in its results, lasting forever without further cost than its purchase price and never losing its force, indeed a Royal Road to Health. Its action in cases simple or grave, at early inception or after long standing, is what proves its virtue.

NERVOUSNESS AND INDIGESTION

Madison, Wis., Feb. 13, 1911.

The Oxygenator Co.

Gentlemen:—This is to certify that I have been troubled with Nervousness and Indigestion, also other minor ailments for many years. Have tried many a doctor and all kinds of medicine without deriving any benefit, in fact I was getting worse in place of better. Through a friend I was induced to try an OXYPATHOR.

After using one for a short period of 10 days, I received more benefit of same than what I did of all the other things that I have tried.

We also had occasion to try the little machine at other times in our family; at one time our eldest daughter had the Croup, and after applying the machine for twenty minutes the Croup disappeared and showed no more symptoms.

I would not be without an OXYPATHOR for THIRTY-FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS if I could not get another.

Respectfully yours,

BRIGHT'S DISEASE CURED

Ripon, Wis., Oct. 8th, 1910.

The Oxygenator Co.

Dear Sirs:—I was taken with Bright's Disease last July and was to 14 different doctors, some of them the most eminent doctors in this country and could not get a bit of relief. My limbs were swollen up so large that I thought they would burst every time I would put my left on them.

On the 20th of September, 1910, I got the OXYPATHOR. In three days time the swelling was all out of my limbs and in 20 days I was as well as ever.

Thanks to one of the most wonderful doctors in the world—the OXYPATHOR.

Yours truly,

T. S. Pease.

FRANK PAPE CURED OF CATARRH

Madison, Wis., Jan. 17, 1910.

The Madison Oxygenator Co.

Gentlemen:—I wish to state in a few lines my experience in the use of your little machine. I have been doctoring for about 10 years with different doctors. Some named my ailment Bronchitis—others called it Stomach Trouble, but none could cure me. I got weaker and poorer and more sick until I was not able to do my work, and the medicine I took seemed to make me only worse. I was full of pain and fever, and my hopes of getting better were slim. Finally your agent, Mr. Mezger, sold me an OXYPATHOR, but little faith I had for the little machine. I used it and to my great surprise in 12 hours time I had no more pain and no more fever. I got better every minute and could eat again and in 3 weeks time I was able to do my work as well as ever.

We have used the machine twice in our family and both times with the same good results. We cannot praise it enough and I will recommend it to anyone. Would not part with it for any price. I hope you will soon get one of the little doctors in every home.

Wishing you every success, I remain

Yours truly,

Frank Pape,

THE THEATERS

"The ROSARY."
A modern play to be produced at the Myers Theatre tonight, is called "The Rosary," written by Edward E. Rose and produced by the well-known theatrical managers, Messrs. Gaskill and MacVitty.

Quietly and modestly, with no blaze of trumpets, it projects a quiet word into our turmoil of opinions, which many believe will revolutionize our ethics of marriage and divorce as an illustration of the American home, such as our homes are today. It shows power and happiness, but suddenly a cancer sore is unmasked—lack of faith in the husband. Slowly little by little is seen the devastating power of atheism, how it saps the strength and breaks the will so that when doubt and suspicion creep in they find a fertile soil for their descendants—hatred and revenge.

Another La Salle Hit.
"Love and Politics," Joseph E. Howard's entertaining song-show is in the second week of its engagement at the La Salle Opera House of Chicago by special arrangement with Manager Harry Askin. It promises to have a successful spring run, while Mr. Askin is completing plans for his own new production, scheduled for a premiere in the late summer.

The cast which Joseph E. Howard has given "Love and Politics" is exceptionally able. Mr. Howard himself appears in the stellar role, and he is supported by Tom Lewis, the successful comedian who has appeared in a number of George M. Cohan's pieces; Mabel McCune, an attractive prima donna who sings brilliantly and whose personality reminds you of Mabel Harrison; Harry Maynor, one of the best juvenile actors in America; Harry Pilear and Rosie Green, who in his book, "The Passing of the Idle Rich."

Geoff De Mille has recently written a play entitled "The Stampede," in which Lillian Buckingham will appear next season.

H. Beerholm Tree is out with the announcement that he will confine himself strictly to Shakespearean plays in the future.

"Madame Butterfly" has been successfully launched as a vaudeville sketch by Evelyn Millard at the Palace theatre, London, recently.

Honrietta Crossman recently has produced a play entitled "The Peacock and the Goose," which will be her principal play during next season.

SCENE FROM "THE ROSARY," AT MYERS THEATRE TONIGHT.

Then comes the spiritual power of a great man—a priest whose life is given to mankind. Slowly he analyzes the situation and lends the husband and wife whom he loves, out of the darkness to happiness and peace. "The Rosary" has proven the success of the year in Chicago and New York. The Chicago run lasted three months and it is predicted that it will stay throughout the year at the Globe Theatre, in Boston, where the actors company is now playing.

"The Rosary" will appear at Myers Theatre tonight.

Applaud MacMillen.
"Commercial Appeal," Memphis, Tenn., Jan. 21st, 1911.

After Francis MacMillen had finished his program at the Goodwyn Institute last night the audience stopped, stood up, and with one accord began to applaud his playing of the Andante and Finale from the Mendelssohn concerto. It was the most masterful rendition ever heard in Memphis and was appreciated. Mr. MacMillen bowed.

FRANCIS MACMILLEN, THE GREAT VIOLINIST.

and the audience to their seats and graciously gave Dvorak's humorous. The patrons went wild. They gave MacMillen such an ovation as has never greeted the artist here before.

Mr. MacMillen has displayed to Memphis that he is entitled to recognition among the American-born masters of the violin. His program last night included: Wieniawski, Saint-Saens, Schubert, Mozart, Paganini, and Mendelssohn. He is a thorough technician and master interpreter. His rendition of the Mozart, Minuet and the Andante and Finale from the Mendelssohn concerto in E minor were entrancing and beyond criticism. The Schubert Ave Maria was one of the great pleasures of the evening. In the Moise Fantasia (Paganini) on the G string alone, Mr. MacMillen demonstrated his beautiful quality of execution and mastery of tone. He has the vigor of youth and the maturity of age. Not since Kreisler played here has Memphis heard such violin music. He makes the hardest runs in Saint-Saens' Rondo Capriccioso as though he were rendering a simple melody. A grand reception was tendered him last night.

Gino Albert gave the Polonaise in A flat major by Chopin, and Etude (entitled de Valer) by Saint-Saens, on the piano in wonderful style. Mr. Albert shared much of the honor of the evening with Mr. MacMillen. His brilliant execution and mastery of the instrument won great applause. He received many encores and responded with some lighter numbers. MacMillen will appear at Myers Theatre Tuesday evening, May 16.

make a dancing team that cannot be excelled anywhere; Eugene O'Rourke and George Fox, both of them sterling players.

Every song in "Love and Politics" is a Howard "hit." The cream of the collection is "Lindy, Come Along," which the dramatic critic of the Chicago Evening Post recently pronounced the song of the season; and the others are: "Front," "Mary Ann," "Love's Dreamy Tune," "A. B. C.," "Chicago," "So," "Sing Sing Sunday," "The Owl Dance," "Just a Little Smile," "The Hot Is Up To You," "Just For You," and "The Frisco Frizz."

Famous Home of Minstrelsy Closes.
With the final performance in the Eleventh Street Opera House tonight there ends the career of the most famous home of negro minstrelsy in the world. For fifty-seven years with out interruption the audiences have gathered nightly in the old house to listen to the melody of the bones and tambourine and enjoy the jokes of the end men. The remarkable run of minstrelsy in the old house began when Sam Sanford took the house in 1854 and has continued up to the present day. For the past sixteen years the house has been the home of Dumont's Minstrelsy, which has been obliged to seek other quarters because the old house is to be torn down. Among the well known entertainers still living who appeared in minstrelsy on the stage of the Eleventh Street Opera House are Lew Dockstader, Chas. O'Leary, and Hughie Dougherty. Don Cotton, William West, Frank Moran, Lily Emerson and many others equally well known appeared in the famous half circle at various times.

"The Girl I Love."
"The Girl I Love," Harry Askin's latest production, opened a week's engagement at the Pacific Avenue Opera House of Cleveland, O., Monday night and is playing to capacity business. "The Sweetest Girl in Paris" closed its tour May 6, and its players have scattered to their homes or summer engagements. The company will be reassembled next fall for tour to the Pacific coast, with Trish Braganza as star, with Alexander Carr will be starred in the new production at the La Salle Opera House.

PLAYS AND PLAYERS.
Valerie Borgers will have six sketches out next season.

Albert Chevalier wants to try another starring tour in this country.

Eleanor Kent is appearing in a one-act operetta called "Love via Aeroplano."

Pauline Perry has become the leading lady of a stock company in New Haven, Conn.

Mario Walnwright, who has been playing with William Gillette, is to return to vaudeville.

Mildred Holland will go into vaudeville with a condensed version of "The Power Behind the Throne."

"The Life Guardsman" is to be produced in London by Charles Frohman and George Edwards next season.

King Alfonso of Spain has offered a prize of $5,000 to be competed for by all the orchestras of the kingdom.

The Russian dancers, Pavlova and Mordkin, have recently had a quarrel in London and will not dance together.

May Robson will make another trip to the Pacific coast and may not have any vacation at all this summer.

Margaret Townsend is adapting a play from Frederick Townsend Mar-

Ivan Caryll, the English composer, is at present working on an operetta, entitled "Sweet Pansy," which is to be produced next season by Klaw & Erlanger.

"The Quaker Girl," one of George Edwards' recent London successes, may be seen in the United States under the management of Frank McKee the coming season.

Mario Tompsett is to change the name of her new play from "The Hill Toppers" to "The Star Turn," which means the same thing, and pleases the London philologists better.

Charlotte Walker is to appear as a stock star in Minneapolis, and will during this engagement probably be seen in a dramatization of John Fox's novel, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

Charles Dillingham will produce, next season, a play by Eugene Walter called "The Assassin," said to be based upon the murder of the New York Italian detective, Petrosino, some time ago in Italy.

LEW DOCKSTADER'S MINSTRELS COMING

Famous Minstrel Troupe Make 900-Mile Jump to Reach Here on Night of May 26.

The famous Dockstader's minstrelsy are to be at the Myers theatre in May 26. The visit of this troupe of the "Kings of minstrelsy" is set out as extraordinary in several ways. In the first place, it will be the closing engagement at the Myers theatre for the season of 1910-1911. In the second place, the troupe, which has been the one perfect aggregation among minstrelsy for many years will make the longest jump to play here on the longest date of any show that has ever appeared in the local playhouse. They close a three-day run at Winnipeg, Manitoba, on the night of the twenty-seventh and play here on the twenty-ninth. This jump of over nine hundred miles is not all for they will leave here and go straight to New York.

Last of all, it is a piece of good fortune that Mr. Myers has been able to secure them for this city. In the halcyon days of the minstrel and out and out men, Lew Dockstader stood alone as the only original one in the business. It may be said with safety that his band of black face comedians are leaders in this line today. Many of the jokes and cracks that have become by-words with the public, and their origin in the semi-circle of Lew Dockstader's happy bunch of minstrelsy.

SAVE THE HAIR

Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It.
No woman should have poor, thin, scraggy hair, and no man need become bald. Poor hair and final baldness are due to the dandruff germ.

Newbro's Herpicide will destroy this little germ and stop the hair from falling. Further evidence of this is found in a letter from Mrs. E. Nelson, of Topeka, Wis. She says: "I fought the worst kind of dandruff for nine years. I have been using Herpicide now one week, and my scalp is healthy, the dandruff has gone and the itching has stopped. It is the best remedy for scalp diseases I ever saw, and I have seen many."

Don't subject yourself to disappointment and expense by accepting something claimed to be "just as good" as Newbro's Herpicide. These off brands may possibly be good, but why take chances? The genuine and original dandruff germ destroyer can always be obtained. If your own druggist has nothing but "just as good" articles, go to J. L. Baker who will furnish you with Newbro's Herpicide and guarantee one dollar also bottles. It stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Send 10c in postage or silver for sample and booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. H, Detroit, Mich.

Nemo
SELF-REDUCING CORSET WITH THE NEW

LASTIKOPS LIMSHAPING EXTENSIONS

What does that broad band of semi-elastic Lastikops Webbing do? It re-shapes and reduces the upper limbs to natural size, and prevents the flesh from bulging out below. Long corsets drive the flesh down where you don't want it, making an unsightly ridge under a tight dress. Lastikops Limshaping Extensions completely cure this evil; give you slender limbs with the fashionable "in-slope"—your gowns will fit like the skin of an apple. They let you sit down with comfort; and the elastic bands will outlast the corset. Long and short models:

No. 408 (HIGH BUST) $4
No. 406 (LOW BUST)

Both have Nemo Self-Reducing front—the only perfect abdominal support.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Forty Years Ago
The Janesville Gazette, May 13, 1871.
Fire Last Night.
A fire broke out about midnight last night at the place of Mr. M. Russell on the river bank in the fourth ward, by which thirty-five large logs were burned to death, and twenty-five more drowned in the river while attempting to escape from the flames. This was a choice collection of breeding stock which Mr. Russell had been great pains to get together, their average weight being in the neighborhood of three hundred pounds. In addition to the pigs he also lost a new steam house and a large quantity of food, the steamer not arriving on time to save his property.

Battle for the Child.
The movement to abolish child labor is steadily progressing, though with uneven acceleration. In every part of the country. The battle for the child and for the interests of civilization, which are jeopardized by the premature employment of children in industry, is not yet won. The National Boies Penrose.

Now, when my children and you shall hear of him, who hath fallen into the kingdom and the power and the glory added by Aldrich.

Under the committee on committees system in our Republican House of Lords, even as now in our Democratic House of Commons, power dwells by the law of seniority.

Our being a commercial nation, reigning resplendent in an age of commercialism, the rule has been laid down that the chairman of the Finance Committee of the United States Senate shall be regarded as the most important member of that house of elder statesmen, and that the chairman of the corresponding committee of the lower chamber shall have the same ascendancy therein.

Aldrich was chairman of Finance until March four, last. A year ago, when he announced his future abdication, Julius Caesar Burrows, of the sovereign state of Michigan, ranked next on the list of committee men and it was taken for granted that the title of Augustus would descend from Aldrich to him. Indeed, it seemed to be all things that this title should again adorn a Caesar. But the Michiganians deemed their Caesar too ambitious and, when the American Senators vacated their chamber on March four, last, they left him lying prone, a political corpse, who no more should haunter for the crown of Aldrich.

And it now comes to pass that he who profits by the passing of this Western Julius Caesar is a hefty giant from the city called Brotherly Love, which is the most powerful and populous town in the Commonwealth of Penn's Woods. And his name is Boies Penrose.

It hath been said that despite their vaunted democracy, our people, at heart, still worship the aristocracy of blood. For this blood-worship Philadelphia has ever taken the lead, has ever been the most renowned of our centers of population. And the bluest blood of Philadelphia courses in the veins of Boies.

When Albert, Prince of Wales, afterward Edward, King of England, visited Philadelphia and inquired into this mighty clan, a prominent citizen replied:

"Oh, your Royal Highness, there are rich Biddies and poor Biddies and just Biddies."

Our Boies sprang from the "rich Biddies." In that same seething year, 1860, when the young Prince of Wales visited Philadelphia, Boies Penrose was born upon the first day of November, which means that he now wears the half-year past of his fifty-first lap in the race of life. He was started in at private school, the Episcopal Academy, but later placed in the hands of a private tutor engaged to make him do his Harvard ahead of schedule. And that this tutor did good things—also that he had not material to work upon—was proved by the fact that when the two boys entered the university together Boies was sixteen and Charles not yet fifteen. When they came in as freshmen Theodore Roosevelt had just become a sophomore, but history does not record that the future president ever hazed the future senator. Indeed the odds would have been long on the latter had there been such a single-handed fray, for Boies was even then a giant, growing past the six-foot mark, while leader of the Senate would all go straight to Tophet in preference to living north of Market Street, that bourn-dary which, in the social world of the City of Brotherly Love, separates the sheep from the goats. Yet Penrose, Augustus was elevated to, and maintained in political life by a popularity in which, numerically speaking, the aristocracy of Philadelphia amounts to less than the proverbial drop in the bucket. Hardly one in a thousand of the voters who have cast their ballots for Penrose legislators know the social distinction between a Biddle and a Penrosean.

No we come to one parallel between Penrose and Roosevelt which we cannot overlook. Each became a master politician in spite of proud birth and a boyhood spent on velvet. Roosevelt is a member of the Four Hundred and Penrose is a Biddle of the five.

A Patient Orator at 10. While the boy Aldrich gave to clue, and dreamed no dream of, what he was going to be, the boy Penrose saw his horoscope clearly when still the pregnant year of thirty-four when the Democrats overturned the Republican tables and defeated Blaine, but thirty-one, five out of the 259 youths in his class were selected by competitive examination to deliver commencement orations, and Boies, now a towering Hercules with wavy black hair and a mustache dark eyes, was one of the five.

There was, however, this difference between Boies and his grand-dad whose career he was now duplicating. Boies has always regular—always voted with his party whereas grandpa had distinguished himself by being elected first as a Whig and later as a "reform" candidate.

Grandfather had made a legislature, Democratic by three majorities, elect Simon Cameron, Republican, to the Senate. And Boies helped elect Simon's son to the same high office. Then in the year thirty-seven Grandson Boies, rising in his party caucus, seconded the nomination of Quay for election as Cameron's successor at Washington. And a decade later he received upon his own broad shoulders the toga of the younger Cameron.

In but a trifle over thirteen years he has climbed from the bottom to the top rung of the senatorial ladder and the present tariff measure will be known as the "Underwood-Penrose bill."

Penrose Augustus is reckoned as opulent. He has his yacht on the Delaware, in an ardent fisherman and in his day has been an expert in the saddle as well as at hunting big game.

He is an old bachelor and his relatives have now come to despair of his ever taking unto himself a wife. When the latter is broached to them they but shrug their shoulders and sigh: "Oh, well, Boies will be Boies."

The other day I saw the new chairman of the Finance Committee enter the lobby of the Willard Hotel, Washington, and pass two politicians who promptly tipped their hats. And "Penrose Augustus" barely nodding and passing nonchalantly on to the elevator, accepted this form of salute as a matter of course.

The most luxuriant display of whiskers at the coronation of George V will be that made by Maj. Gen. Adolphus W. Greely, one time polar explorer and later Chief Signal Officer, U. S. A., who is to be the military aide on Ambassador Hammond's staff. It is said that he has generally been assigned to such noncommittal duty as Arctic exploration and signal service administration because to have placed such a bewhiskered officer upon the firing line would have been a violation of that article of the law of war that forbids fighting from ambush.

For his preceptor he selected Wayne MacVeagh, skilled diplomatist and legal light, who had just sat his Garfield cabinet, as his brother-in-law sits in Taft's, but as Attorney-General instead of keeper of the public purse. And after being admitted to practice, at the age of twenty-two, this young authority on the tactics of "Little Van" entered into partnership with two older men.

Now came a tedious wait of eleven years, fraught with plenty of plaudits and brief writing, but mighty little of politics. Then there followed the pregnant year of thirty-four when the Democrats overturned the Republican tables and defeated Blaine, but thirty-one, five out of the 259 youths in his class were selected by competitive examination to deliver commencement orations, and Boies, now a towering Hercules with wavy black hair and a mustache dark eyes, was one of the five.

He is an old bachelor and his relatives have now come to despair of his ever taking unto himself a wife. When the latter is broached to them they but shrug their shoulders and sigh: "Oh, well, Boies will be Boies."

The other day I saw the new chairman of the Finance Committee enter the lobby of the Willard Hotel, Washington, and pass two politicians who promptly tipped their hats. And "Penrose Augustus" barely nodding and passing nonchalantly on to the elevator, accepted this form of salute as a matter of course.

The most luxuriant display of whiskers at the coronation of George V will be that made by Maj. Gen. Adolphus W. Greely, one time polar explorer and later Chief Signal Officer, U. S. A., who is to be the military aide on Ambassador Hammond's staff. It is said that he has generally been assigned to such noncommittal duty as Arctic exploration and signal service administration because to have placed such a bewhiskered officer upon the firing line would have been a violation of that article of the law of war that forbids fighting from ambush.

The Heir to the Title "Augustus."

Spruce Street. Yet Aldrich was a poor boy who commenced work behind a counter.

In that same seething year, 1860, when the young Prince of Wales visited Philadelphia, Boies Penrose was born upon the first day of November, which means that he now wears the half-year past of his fifty-first lap in the race of life. He was started in at private school, the Episcopal Academy, but later placed in the hands of a private tutor engaged to make him do his Harvard ahead of schedule. And that this tutor did good things—also that he had not material to work upon—was proved by the fact that when the two boys entered the university together Boies was sixteen and Charles not yet fifteen. When they came in as freshmen Theodore Roosevelt had just become a sophomore, but history does not record that the future president ever hazed the future senator. Indeed the odds would have been long on the latter had there been such a single-handed fray, for Boies was even then a giant, growing past the six-foot mark, while leader of the Senate would all go straight to Tophet in preference to living north of Market Street, that bourn-dary which, in the social world of the City of Brotherly Love, separates the sheep from the goats. Yet Penrose, Augustus was elevated to, and maintained in political life by a popularity in which, numerically speaking, the aristocracy of Philadelphia amounts to less than the proverbial drop in the bucket. Hardly one in a thousand of the voters who have cast their ballots for Penrose legislators know the social distinction between a Biddle and a Penrosean.

No we come to one parallel between Penrose and Roosevelt which we cannot overlook. Each became a master politician in spite of proud birth and a boyhood spent on velvet. Roosevelt is a member of the Four Hundred and Penrose is a Biddle of the five.

A Patient Orator at 10. While the boy Aldrich gave to clue, and dreamed no dream of, what he was going to be, the boy Penrose saw his horoscope clearly when still the pregnant year of thirty-four when the Democrats overturned the Republican tables and defeated Blaine, but thirty-one, five out of the 259 youths in his class were selected by competitive examination to deliver commencement orations, and Boies, now a towering Hercules with wavy black hair and a mustache dark eyes, was one of the five.

There was, however, this difference between Boies and his grand-dad whose career he was now duplicating. Boies has always regular—always voted with his party whereas grandpa had distinguished himself by being elected first as a Whig and later as a "reform" candidate.

Grandfather had made a legislature, Democratic by three majorities, elect Simon Cameron, Republican, to the Senate. And Boies helped elect Simon's son to the same high office. Then in the year thirty-seven Grandson Boies, rising in his party caucus, seconded the nomination of Quay for election as Cameron's successor at Washington. And a decade later he received upon his own broad shoulders the toga of the younger Cameron.

In but a trifle over thirteen years he has climbed from the bottom to the top rung of the senatorial ladder and the present tariff measure will be known as the "Underwood-Penrose bill."

Penrose Augustus is reckoned as opulent. He has his yacht on the Delaware, in an ardent fisherman and in his day has been an expert in the saddle as well as at hunting big game.

He is an old bachelor and his relatives have now come to despair of his ever taking unto himself a wife. When the latter is broached to them they but shrug their shoulders and sigh: "Oh, well, Boies will be Boies."
